Strengths (3):

- Resilient (getting back up after a hit is almost instinctive, even if she dies trying)
- Great power (the girl's got strength, more so than precision)
- Very observant (able to sniff out opponents' weaknesses/strengths to exploit during the match)

Weaknesses (3):

- Hates authority (basically hates being told what to do so if a ref tells her to back down, she'd rather be DQ'd than do that purely out of spite)
- Rough around the edges (she likes to stir shit for her own amusement but also keep things fun with the stupid ideas rolling through her head every minute, which can rub people the wrong way and get her into trouble more often than not)

- Slow learner (she's not the brightest so things may seem more complicated to her than to others yet that won't stop her from trying and failing to execute moves she's not ready for)
