

Final assignment

Purposes:

My dad - I'd hate for him not to see me succeed and give him a taste of what it will be like outside the matrix. He's getting old, he said, "If I was younger we would've had so much fun." which struck a note in me to become wealthy. If I had money I could help him medically, and then take him somewhere he wouldn't have even thought about eating.

My mom - is more like a "told you so" kind of situation. She doesn't believe it possible to become rich with something dodgy. She enjoys her coupon, her bargain and savings. I almost want to ruin the fun for her.

Identity:

 MY AGOGE IDENTITY Day 2 assignment

Personalised plan:

Identity doc will be refreshed completely every month to keep its power. The conquest is super helpful starting literally anything and I'll be using it to start my next project outside of the real world alongside the daily dominations to keep me on track.

Prepare for challenges:

"I often find plans are useless, but planning is indispensable"
