

◆ Rosaline Hana ◆

*"An artistic creature,
With a heart of ink."*

Ink Manipulation

Being made entirely out of ink, Rose is capable of altering and molding her body into all different shapes and sizes. Also allowing access to other sources foreign from her, with a weaker control.

Black Heart

Despite it being a slime-like creature, her humanoid anatomy follows that of an actual human; containing the same structure, despite not being needed.

However, her blackened heart is what keeps her going even after numerous fatal blows are endured; constantly supplying her ink with magic, keeping her alive. Damaging or outright destroying this stained heart will render Rose temporarily dead.

◆ Strengths

- Classified as a Tier 6/8 Entity, known for her dangerous capabilities and adaptability in dire situations.
- Being composed of ink, Rose has a strong resistance towards simple blunt force. Obviously, higher levels of this will easily break through her exterior, but are a rather unreliable method of attack.
- Unending supply of stamina. With the additional bonus of bunny-like characteristics, being considered a slime grants her this buff.

◆ Weaknesses

- Mentioned previously, Rose has a clear resistance towards blunt force. However, piercing and slash-based attacks have the opposite effect on her. Capable of separating the ink much easier and quicker.
- Fire, alongside other elements capable of burning its target, proves to be effective at limiting Rose's abilities. These elements also allow Rose to experience pain, depending on the severity of the attack.
- While her imagination can truly turn the tide of a fight, what she's capable of pulling off is dependent on this factor. Without knowledge of x, she cannot pull y.
- Carried by her abilities, Rose is a much inexperienced fighter. Only learning more as her journey proceeds.

Backstory

Rosaline, a bunny kemono originating from a different region outside of the lands she knows today, alongside her older brothers, mother, and father.

During the passing of her oldest brother and father, a strange journal appeared not far-out from her home. With the sounds of whispers and peculiar shifts in the environment surrounding her, she was beckoned close. Each step filled with curiosity, wondering what this strange book could contain. The information it could hold inside...

All it took was one tap. Pressing her soft, delicate fingers onto the dusty book, the ink from every page would swirl around with such violent grace. Staining her hand before flooding down her arm and body, painfully merging into her skin and flesh, transforming her into what she now sees herself as... What she would've seen herself as. Losing her memory in the process.

Personality

Adaptive / Quick Learner - Observant little creature, she is. With her enhanced memory and quick thinking, she can easily learn varying patterns and the likes.

Moody - Mood is dependent on the setting. Gloomy spaces result in an observant, clingy Rose whereas brighter settings will result in cheerful, joyful moods.

Creative Embrace - Creativity comes in all shapes and sizes, and she knows just how to use it when push comes to shove.

Trivia

"Scared 'Ink'less" - When scared, Rose may disperse ink similar to that of a squid. Usually occurs when genuinely terrified; which may be more often than you think.

Kankurou Hana

*"Between life and death,
a brother will forever protect."*

Tangibility Control

Carrying his physical body to the afterlife, Kuro has been blessed with the manifestation of tangibility manipulation. Flipping between the sides of physicality and a spectral-esque form on the fly.

Skills of another Life

Spending the majority of his short lived life in committing to perfection of swordsmanship, Kuro has obtained a fine handling towards weapons; most notably khopeshes, halberds, and other polearms.

Strengths

"The Undying Spirit of a Fallen Brother" When it comes to his sister, he does whatever it takes to keep her safe. Even if this means putting himself through grief and sorrow. Much akin to a mother with her baby, Kuro simply becomes enraged at the thought.

"I Feel No Pain or Remorse!" Already dying a much painful death, this soul has lost his sense of pain long ago. Proving this as he's capable of taking a horrific beating without feeling not a wound.

Weaknesses

"The Body May Not Tremble, but the Mind Still Feels." While one of Kuro's strengths is his negation of physical pain, however once opened up, he is incredibly vulnerable to mental and psychic attacks.

"Why Must I Burn?" As his most powerful weakness, Kuro is unable to coexist in illuminated areas without receiving a painful burn in the inflicted areas. These burns are strong enough to leave his body incredibly exposed for other forms of attacks to deal impressive damage, compared to without. This ranges from not only the stars, but also to something small like a torch.
