

CONCERNING ADOPTS, CUSTOM OR OTHERWISE:

You may name the character, create a personality and background information for the character, etc. You can do whatever you want.

Alterations to the design are allowed without limits, however these alterations are NOT to be made to the original art.

The artwork and design must be credited to me when used. You may not claim the original artwork as yours.

The adopt may be resold at the same price, or at a lower price.

The adopt may only be sold at a higher price if additional artwork has been commissioned/made for it.

If you received the adopt for free, you may not sell it for money unless additional artwork has been commissioned/made for it.

You may not use any adopts bought from me for hate speech.

You may not use the adopts for commercial use (unless permission is granted).

You may not remove my signature from the original artwork.

I reserve the right to display the artwork and design I have created on my social media platforms as well as my portfolio.

The payment must be made first before the client receives an HD, unwatermarked copy of the artwork and character.
