1. Introduction □ Verdana, Bold, 11pt

In general, an article is between 4,000-5,000 words in length including the title, abstract, and references. (Verdana, 11 pt) Introduction Section contains an explanation why the issues need to be researched (research significance) and all supporting data or scientific evidence based on personal observations, the results of other researcher studies, or problems from the community engagement in society. The formulation of this research problem is always based on real conditions and objectively scientifically

Applied Science paper is based on original research related about community engagement program. Community engagement mean the services to society, applying science and technology based on their field, increasing the capacity of society, and community empowerment.

The kind of research is depending on your field or the topic of community engagement program (program that has be done, experiment, impact of your program, survey, interview, questionnaire, etc.). The applied science paper will be based on the analysis and interpretation between theory and community engagement program and you need to explain the problems that faced in location of community engagement.

There is no theoretical background section in this manuscript. But, you must input your theoretical background on Introduction section. Theoretical background contains previous theories as the basis of research and the temporary hypothesis. The theory can be in the form of scientific articles, articles in journals, textbooks, or other sources of scientific writing. This theory will be used to provide state of the art of your manuscript from research problems that have been proposed. In the context of community engagement, the theory that should be used primarily is the theory related to community engagement, community development, or community services. Other theories that are still needed to solve the problem of research to support theories that are delivered after the theory of community engagement is discussed.

After the theories are mentioned and discussed, you need to form a problem that show why this manuscript is important, existing gaps, previous research and you as an Author must write the purpose of the manuscript.

2. Methods □ Verdana, Bold, 11pt

Methods are the means used by the author to answer the existing research problem. The method must clear with the location and time of the research, the population and sample of the research, the research variables and the research data. Describe the basic procedures used during the study, including selection of study subjects and observational and analytical methods. The method of your manuscript also mentions detail of your community engagement program. Define the primary outcomes that were measured for each group of subjects about implementation of community engagement

3. Result and Discussion □ Verdana, Bold, 11pt

Result and discussion contains results obtained by the author during the research. The results of the research submitted in advance as a whole, which continues by doing the process of discussion. The discussion is presented systematically from general, then leads to the specific. Presentation of the research can be done with the help of tables, drawings/graphs, maps/plans, and schemes.

Result and discussion of your manuscript also interconnected with your theory that used, included novelty of your manuscript about community engagement. Also, your manuscript is based on the result of your community engagement program and what is the implication of this community engagement program to community.

Minimum of your explanation on this chapter is range 40% to 50% of your manuscript.

1.1. Tables □ Verdana, Italic, 11pt

All tables for submitting manuscript should be numbered with Arabic numerals and this tables can be edit and not as images. Every table should have a caption. Headings should be placed above tables, centered. Only horizontal lines should be used within a table, to distinguish the column headings from the body of the table, and immediately above and below the table. Tables must be embedded into the text and not supplied separately. If the table get on other sources, write the name of source below the table, left justified. Below is an example which the authors may find useful.

Table 1. An Example of Table □ Verdana, 9 pt

An example of a column heading	Column A (t)	Column B (t)
And an entry	1	2
And another entry	3	4
And another entry	5	6

*Source: An Example of Source (Year of Source) □ *Verdana, 9pt

Your table on manuscript as much as possible in one page, not continued into next page. It is for the sake of ease for Reader that read your manuscript. Also, for mentioning your table, please mention your table with the number of your table. For example, "... the result of our research is mention on Table 4 ..."

And please not mention your table with this example, "... the result of our research is mention on Table below ..."

1.2. Figures □ Verdana, Italic, 11pt

All figures should be numbered with Arabic numerals (1,2,3,...). Every figure should have a caption. All photographs, schemas, graphs and diagrams are to be referred to as figures. Line drawings should be good quality scans or true electronic output. Low-quality scans are not acceptable. Figures must be embedded into the text and not supplied separately. In MS word input the figures must be properly coded. Lettering and symbols should be clearly defined either in the caption or in a legend provided as part of the figure. Figures should be placed at the top or bottom of a page wherever possible, as close as possible to the first reference to them in the paper.

The figure number and caption should be typed below the illustration in 11pt and centered. If the figures get on other sources, write the name of source below the figures, left justified. The figures on your manuscript must send separately from your manuscript with high resolution. Below is an example which the authors may find useful.
