

France Trudel
Montréal (QC)

In my professional life, I have worked with many non-profit organizations (NPOs) including Diabète Québec and its network of affiliated associations*. In particular, I created management, governance and event management tools to support associations. Tools that I still use regularly in my volunteer activities.

I also worked as a research journalist in several media (radio and television) in Quebec and Ontario (CIBL-FM, RDI, TFO, Radio-Canada radio in Toronto and Windsor. I have good writing skills and the ability to develop networks.

Since joining the association's Board of Directors, I have contributed to the drafting of the by-laws, the creation of model minutes and agenda for board meetings.

I wish to continue the development of the association at different levels: continue to build the required organizational structures, in compliance with the rules imposed by law; create management and governance tools, contribute to the development of mosaic art in Canada.

My mother tongue is French, but I understand, write, read and speak English.
