Our Story

Founded in 2020 by Reshae Alagbada and Safia Hirsi, Queen’s Web is a company that helps women in the tech industry gain experience. Queen’s Web pairs highly-skilled rising software engineers and UX/UI designers to collaborate on creative solutions that serve both user needs and business goals.

Our Vision

Diversify the tech industry, empower women and build a global community through collaboration and innovation.

Our Values

- Passion: We are excited by our work and passionate about crafting innovative digital solutions for real world problems.
- Diversity: We are committed to upholding diversity in our organization at every level and utilizing our team members’ varied backgrounds to strengthen our products.
- Quality: We are motivated to work hard and continuously learn in order to develop the highest quality digital products.

Mission

Our mission is to empower women in the tech industry to create world-class digital products.

Why Queen’s Web?

- World Wide: Our team members are based all over the world, bringing their unique perspectives to our cross-functional team.
- Agile Teams: Using Agile methodology, we collaborate to respond to change and continuously deliver great products.
- Philanthropy: A portion of our proceeds goes back to organizations supporting women in tech.

What We Do

Each project starts with the creation of a Queen Team composed of software engineers, UX/UI designers and a team lead. Each team collaborates together to bring your vision to life. By working cross-functionally, we combine user experience research methods with visual design and full-stack software engineering to define and develop the best solutions for your business and user needs. Our services include, but are not limited to:

- WEB DEVELOPMENT
- APP DEVELOPMENT
- BRANDING
