

TAI Econ Discussion: Signal Group Chat

Transformative AI is reshaping economies, industries, and societies – often faster than anyone can keep up.

If you're interested in understanding, discussing, and sharing news about the economics of transformative AI, you're invited to join our Signal discussion group and online community.

What is this?

The TAI Econ Discussion Group is a private Signal group and lightweight community for people interested in the economics and societal impacts of transformative AI.

We aim to:

- Share and discuss news, research, and insights
- Learn from one another across different backgrounds
- Stay informed on this rapidly changing topic
- Build a network of peers interested in TAI's economic effects

The group includes researchers, policymakers, industry professionals, and anyone with a genuine interest in the field.

Why join?

- Get access to curated articles, research, and community knowledge
- Learn from others' perspectives and experiences
- Ask questions, share leads, and help others in the space
- Connect with others who are thinking about the future of AI and the economy

How we work

We want the group to be useful, welcoming, and respectful for everyone involved.

To keep things constructive, we ask members to:

- Treat discussions as off-the-record and respect others' privacy
- Keep conversation respectful and on-topic
- Share helpful and relevant content—no spam or unrelated self-promotion

- Help create an environment where all members can learn and contribute

How to join

Interested? Sign up here.

We'll review signups and send a Signal invite to new members regularly. All backgrounds and experience levels are welcome.

The TAI Econ Discussion Group is supported by Convergence Analysis and Windfall Trust. For any questions email Deric (deric@windfalltrust.org) and Danny (danny@windfalltrust.org).
