

Unit 1 Self-Assessment

Name:

Date:

Unit Learning Goal

Students will understand “good work” through excellence, ethics, and engagement.

Lesson Goals From This Unit

- Create classroom norms and practice initial self-reflection using thinking routines.
- Articulate personal views of “good work” by discussing examples of people considered to be “good workers.”
- Define the three elements of “good work” (excellence, ethics, and engagement) and discuss how qualities of “good workers” relate to these elements.
- Define ethics and determine how different ethical paradigms influence choices.

Instructions: Complete the following self-assessment of your learning by reviewing the materials in your Good Work Portfolio. Reference the Unit Learning Goal and Lesson Goals above in your responses.

As an alternative assignment, you may record a video or podcast, reflecting on your experiences using the questions below.

The Good Project

LESSON PLANS
YEAR 1, UNIT 1

THEGOODPROJECT.ORG

1. Have you met or exceeded the Unit Learning Goal and Lesson Goals for this unit? Describe your learning progress. Are there areas in which you are striving for continued improvement? Draw on examples from your Portfolio in your response.

2. Consider how your thinking has changed over the course of this unit. Write a short response using the “I used to think... and now I think...” routine.

3. Has your behavior or daily life changed as a result of your learning? Draw on any recent events or interactions in which you might have made connections to the lessons and ideas in this unit. (Note: It’s OK to say that nothing has changed, if that is the case!)