Status of previous recommendations are pending (newer textbook versions, dual enrollment).

Curriculum Review

Reviewed textbooks as well as supplemental items that were purchased. Discussed the curriculum (Careers, Investigations) and how it pertains to “real life” experiences that prepare students to work in law enforcement. Discussed new curriculum items, defensive tactics, physical fitness, baton, chemical agents. Defensive tactics are being taught to improve student confidence and to improve their ability to confront others in a more relaxed state. Physical conditioning exercises are held one day per week and focus on key areas such as core and lower joints and flexibility. There is also a big focus on interpersonal communications and de-escalation. Students are exposed to scenarios where they must demonstrate their ability to de-escalate rather than utilizing a weapon. There has been focus on ground control techniques where the subject is held / secured rather than struck with a fist or baton. There was a review of student portfolios that contained applications, resumes, BST (behavioral skills tests) and training records. Additional equipment purchased was reviewed. Competencies also reviewed.
