SL: A helping hand

Hi Luc,

I came across your youtube channel the other day and thought your use of youtube shorts, especially the one on how to get more google reviews was great on how to target your audience.

I did notice that you use your channel as a way to sell your own business services as well

However when looking at your landing page it could use some work so you can obviously sell more of your 1 to 1 calls.

So here's a quick 2 minute video on aspects which need improving.

If you're interested in getting some help solving some of these problems just shoot me a yes or no email back.

Have a great day,

James
