Enter Title Here

This is an abstract section, you can insert your abstract here.

This document uses the Docx2LaTeX add-on, install it from here if you haven't already. https://workspace.google.com/u/0/marketplace/app/docx2latex/415272416461

Select a "University of Washington Dissertation Template" in the add-on's select template dropdown to export this document to LaTeX code 100% compliant with the university's guidelines.

Add authors and cover details using the add-on.

Add-on also brings LaTeX's features of cross-referencing and citing to Google Docs.

Now you can write the whole thesis/dissertation without leaving Google Docs.

Makes your writing fast, efficient, and powerful!

Title of the first chapter

Note that the title written above has Subtitle style applied to it. Use this style for other chapters too. Numbers will be automatically added at the time of conversion.

Introduction

Note that the Introduction written above has Heading-1 style applied to it. Use this style for other sections. Numbers will be automatically added at the time of conversion.

Subsection Heading

Subsection Text Here. Note that Subsection uses Heading-2 style, and numbers will be automatically added at the time of conversion.

Subsubsection Heading

Subsubsection text here. Note that subsubsection uses Heading-3 style and numbers will be automatically added.
Adding Figure Caption

Figure 1: To add caption to Figure use Docx2LaTeX Add-on > Cross-ref > Add Figure Caption button.

Adding Tables

This	is	Sample	Table

Table 1: To add table captions use Docx2LaTeX Add-on > Cross-ref > Add Table Caption.

Conclusion

The conclusion goes here.