Terms and Conditions:

-Please note that I am now taking half payments on everything besides chibis. Those must be paid up front.

-Finishing a piece will take roughly two weeks. This is to ensure there is time for communication for the client and myself for any changes and confirmations. I will update you by the end of the first week if there is progress, delays, etc. The latest will be a month due to complexity and outside responsibilities/circumstances.

-During the first week, you are allowed to request a refund. However, you will not receive the work that I have done. I will not refund after the first week unless there is an emergency that you must reclaim your money. This is on a case by case basis however, I can not always guarantee that I will refund due to my own circumstances. If I do grant you the refund, you will not be able to see the work that I have completed by that point.

-I will also refund money if I think I can not finish the requested art in a timely manner. Please note that the more complicated piece you request, the longer it will take, so please have patience with me.

Payment Options:

-Paypal, Ko-fi, and CashApp

Notice:

-My art will not be used for AI use.

-After the work is completed, please feel free to use it as you please besides the previous AI and Crypto. My art is for personal use only.

-If you use my art for anything online, please credit me. Do not promote the art as your own.
