Defining Objectives

Reversal Trader -

I want to be a reversal trader because I always naturally think that once there is a move up or down, soon there will be an opposite force. I'm always looking for a counter move, whenever I see it go up I think next it might go down.

Scalper (Day Trader) -

I have enough time in the day to at least be on the computer for 4 hours, possibly more, per day. I Am very active during market hours even if sometimes I don't take a trade.

Risk Tolerant -

I want to be careful with every trade. I don't want to risk my entire account at the moment, once I become more experienced I will definitely risk more.

Asset class -

The asset class I believe would be good for me would be (Forex) something like EUR/USD, GBP/USD or similar.
