

Hola name, 😊

I first knew about you when you popped up in my YouTube feed.

And I think that your story about how you overcame the abusive relationship you were in is very inspiring. You must've helped a lot of people that needed your advice.

I saw an idea, that is crushing it, in the fitness industry that can work for your financial freedom coaching as well. 100

Which is why I created some content you can share with your YT audience that will be a good opportunity for you to provide more value to them.

I pasted it below.

Let me know if you like them because I still have other tools for you to convince your audience to invest in your online courses.

Thanks,

Bouchta
