

THE FALL OF THE INTELLIGENTSIA

BY THE GADDAFIST

PRE-REVOLUTION

The Vanguard was not at first called The Vanguard. It was previously a loose clique in a server called Intellectuals United, run by Blue. The Discord server was owned by Red, but Blue was the de facto ruler of the server. Blue effectively used the group as tools, rather than friends.

Blue led the group to believe that they were his friends, and he made many promises of riches to them. For this reason, Blue was able to manipulate the group into doing his bidding. He was also a con-artist. One day, Blue scammed a man out of $300, under the pretense that he was going to make the man a website that he could have done himself.

In late June, drama started in the Anarchist YouTuber community. It was Bat'ko, Mr. Dapperton, and their friends versus Blue and his clique. The drama went on for a while. Bat'ko and /leftypol/ were accused of promoting pedophilia and terrorism. Blue sent the clique to spy on servers such as FinBol's Commune, and the Unofficial /leftypol/ Server. The drama ended in July. Nobody won. But during this drama, he had promised the clique money from clicks the data drop download recieved. Blue never delivered.

THE REVOLUTION

On the 19th of September, 2018, everything changed on Intelligentsia, Blue's replacement for Intellectuals United. A faction called The Blackstars had seceded. They started attacking the server by plotting to post pornography and threatening Intelligentsia. Blue took it overboard. He acted impulsive.

People in the Vanguard (Group) had convinced the Black Stars to delete their server. Afterwards, Blue took all of the credit for taking down the Black Stars. This was not the first time that Blue took credit for things that the Vanguard did. The Vanguard members were not happy that Blue was stealing all of the credit. Later on, the Vanguard decided that Blue was too impulsive of a person to lead the server, as-well as him being an effective conman and bad leader in general.

Because of this, three people by the names of Leader NatPrag, Comrade Pariah, and The Gaddafist devised a plan to secede from Intelligentsia. They convinced the other Vanguard members to accept the revolutionary server as legitimate.

Later that day, The Vanguard created a new server, and abandoned Intelligentsia. For all intents and purposes, Intelligentsia became defunct. The Vanguard was now free. Leader NatPrag was chosen as the leader. He is seen by everyone else as a good leader. The Vanguard is now the official successor to Intelligentsia.

AFTER THE REVOLUTION

The Vanguard left Intelligentsia. All of the mods were gone. Blue has nothing left, except some of his loyalists. The backbone of Intelligentsia have migrated to The Vanguard. They went to work on building their server.

Anarchist YouTubers Filthy Heretic and Eso were invited, aswell as Harmsie. There is a system of checks and balances in place to prevent Leader NatPrag from having all the power. All Vanguard members have equal power to Leader NatPrag.

The channel structure is similar to Intelligentsia, but without too many channels. It is going to be as Red intended.
