

this is drastically limiting your sales!

Hey Tyler,

I bumped into your socials and looked at your Youtube videos and I think that your coaching is great!

I love how you encourage your students to be more confident, for example in this video which I enjoyed: "Build Your Basketball Confidence"

I am reaching out to you because while browsing through your YouTube I have seen that you don't run any ads for your coaching course! you are really limiting yourself because by not doing that you are getting less attention than you could get!

If you are interested, I already have some ideas I could give to you.

Feel free to reach out to me so I can send them to you.

Sincerely,
Pawel
