

Below is a short list of 2024 law, government, politics, and international relations programs.

Look at application requirements and due dates. Search summermatch.me to find more. Popular programs fill up quickly!

- Boys & Girls State: A hands-on, realistic experience in civic responsibility to high school students prior to entering their senior year of high school. Ask your counselor about the nomination form.
- Best Delegate: Learn Model United Nations at various campuses across the US.
- Colorado Student Leaders Institute - One-week residential leadership camp focused on diversity, inclusion, social issues for ambitious rising high school juniors plus seniors in Colorado.
- Community of Scholars American University: An introduction to global affairs through college-level coursework.
- Law and Politics at George Washington University: Explore law and politics in our nation's capital.
- National Student Leadership Conference: Interactive summer session where you learn about the law, politics, and international diplomacy.
- William and Mary Pre-College The US Constitution and our Legal System: Learn about the US legal system and interpret the law.
- Tufts University Pre-College: International Relations - Two week intensive program analyzing global issues and foreign policy with esteemed Tufts faculty plus intensive language instruction
- Tufts University Pre-College: Leadership for Social Change - Two week summer experience to build leadership skills, civic knowledge, connections, and an understanding of public policy and social issues
- University of California-Los Angeles: Political Science Institute - Three-week political science program providing high school students immersive academic and campus life experience at UCLA.
- UN Association of Greater Boston: Global Leadership - Weeklong programs for students to collaborate globally, develop leadership and public speaking skills, and address complex issues through Model UN