I. General

a. Copyright

- You cannot claim to be the artist of my artwork.
- I, the artist, retain rights over commissioned work.
- Any character portrayed in my commissioned work will remain copyrighted to their rightful owner.

b. Usage policy

- I reserve the right to use the artwork in my portfolio, social media, promotional material and such, unless asked not to.
- You are free to edit, use, print the artwork in any way.
- You are not allowed to sell the artwork for any higher amount than the one you have bought it for.
- You are free to share the artwork, but if you desire to post it publicly, you need to credit me and link your post to one of my social accounts.

c. Subject

- I reserve the right to refuse drawing those themes:
 - Illegal subjects
 - I will NOT draw any character under the age of 18 in any suggestive or sexual situation.
 - Hate speech

- I will NOT draw any situation representing hate and discrimination towards a real-life group.

- By extension, you also do NOT have the right to use any of my Adoptables in ways that pertain to those two subjects.
- I also reserve the right to refuse a project if I find it to be beyond my level of artistic capacity at the moment of proposal.

II. Workflow

- Once I start working on your piece, I will send you an initial sketch depicting your description of the project. If you want anything changed, we will work through the changes and then I will start work on the final piece after approval.
- If you do not have any visual depiction of your character(s) and my work relies on textual description, I may send you another colored sketch to make sure I am correctly bringing your vision to life.
- Once we have agreed upon composition, colors and such, I will begin working on the piece until completion, which may last between days or weeks. I have a base deadline of one week for an average project, but this may go up to a month. I will keep you updated if I need it to be longer.
- You are allowed to ask me for MINOR rectifications upon completion (ex.: 'Can you please remove the sweat drops on the character?' - very small changes).

III. Payment

- Payment will always be done through Paypal.
- I will proceed with either of those methods:
 - Half of the payment being sent upon agreement of the project, and the other half upon completion.
 - Entire payment before delivery of project.
- This is to protect myself from scamming, and will not send any full piece without any payment at first, amount depending on the size of the project and pricing.
- Payment plans can be done starting from 100USD.
- I always use USD as default currency, so if you see me omit this detail and only show a dollar sign, it means USD and not any other dollar currency.
