

History of Rock and Roll!

Hi Students,

I hope your first week of online learning has been going well. To recap I have posted a few days worth of activities about the Beatles you can look at (from last week's posts). I also included some information on Rock and Roll Hall of Fame member Bill Withers you could check out.

For this week's activities we will be continuing our discussion of the Beatles. Please remember at this point there are NO assignments required for you to complete. However, I suggest you go through the learning activities to keep up on your content knowledge.

If there is an activity or assignment listed, you can still complete these and submit or share to me and I will give you feedback on them. Remember if you COMPLETE these activities they WILL NOT BE GRADED in the GRADEBOOK. Moreso I will give you feedback to help you understand/practice your learning.

Also you will notice I am beginning a series called "Album of the Day" this week. These are videos of me in my home office/music room talking about some important albums (that I happen to have in my own record collection) in music history. I will post one of these each day of the week. I still feel like listening to music on VINYL (aka records) is the best, purist way to listen to and enjoy music! So please check those videos out if you're interested!

Take a look at the learning supplements below for this week, and please feel free to email me if you have questions and/or comments about Rock and Roll History at this point.

I wish you the best and hope you enjoy some of the learning activities for this class.

Rock on!

-Mr. Gabrielsen

Day 1 : The Beatles - The White Album
Day 2: The Beatles- The White Album
Day 3: The Beatles - "The End" of the Beatles
Day 4: The Beatles - Abbey Road and Let It Be
Day 5: The Beatles - Wrap up Beatles Activities

Directions:

Open up our Google Classroom page each day this week and go through the activities listed for each day.

There are a lot of videos for you to watch and music to listen to. Also remember to check out the "Album of the Day" videos each day for more musical ideas to listen to!
