

I'm sure this has happened to you, too.

Hey NAME,

I want to share a situation that happened to me nine years ago.

I was sitting at a bar with my friends, and at a given moment I saw a pretty woman standing across from me while drinking a cocktail.

I swear - she was so attractive that even women would fall in love with her.

I was blinded by her beauty, too.

I wanted to approach her, but I was so scared thinking she was going to reject me.

Within an hour, I was trying to push myself over 10 times to talk to her, but I couldn't.

When that hour passed, I just saw a skinny, not-so-attractive guy who approached her and started a 20-minute conversation with her.

Afterward, he took her out of the bar and called a taxi (probably to take her to his place).

I was shocked!

I could not comprehend how that guy, who wasn't half as attractive as me, seduced this goddess.

But what made me feel worse was that I missed a great chance with this girl.

And why?

Because I wasn't brave enough.

So, I'm asking you...

Have you ever faced a similar problem?
