

Ways to Share Your Book

(These are just ideas/suggestions. You can choose one of these, or pick something else)

- Make a diorama or peep box of a scene
- Make a timeline of the story and illustrate it
- Make a poster with key events from the book
- Construct a mobile that shows the characters and events from the story
- Plan a puppet show of a scene from your book
- Make a Google slideshow or Power Point presentation about your book. Email it to your teacher to show in class
- Draw a map showing places, routes, or events of your book
- Create an original comic strip using the characters in the book
- Make a life-size character of any of the main characters from the book
- Make a travel brochure inviting people to come to the setting of the book
- Make a radio or tv commercial to advertise your book
- Make a scrapbook about the things that happened in your book
- Write and perform a song or poem about your book
- Write a letter to the author telling them what you thought about their book
- Make a book jacket with the summary of the book
- Cover a cereal box with scenes from your book. Put three things inside the box that represents your book

* Every project must include your name, the title of the book, and the author on the project.
