

The Angels are Near

When the sky darkens and shadows start to appear,
Nightmares rise from their terrifying atmosphere
But do not fear the angels are near
To chase away all doubt and fear.

They whisper words of love and light,
Guiding us through the darkest night.
Their wings are strong, their hearts are pure,
Protecting us forevermore.

So, when you feel the nightmare's grasp,
Remember angels in your path.
They will lift you up and hold you tight,
And lead you to the morning light.

No more fear, no more dread,
With angels by your side, you are safely led.
So, rest your head, close your eyes tight,
For angels watch over you all through the night.
