

I am satisfied to choose Jane Doe for the Employee of the Year Award. I have known and worked with Jane for a long time and have constantly discovered her trustworthy, productive, and unfailingly dependable.

Actually, I have never worked with an individual who focuses on detail as she does. Likewise, her eagerness to take on troublesome tasks like the Doe recommendations and see them to effective fulfillment has more than once dazzled me throughout the years.

Her aptitudes don't end with her office work. She likewise extends a warm, chipper disposition to our customers. I have seen her determination clash and handle other troublesome circumstances with astounding tolerance and honorable respect.

In the network, she makes a special effort to help individuals deprived by sorting out cause drives every December and singing with the city ensemble. She adores individuals, buckles down, and consistently attempts to lift the spirits of people around her. I accept these attributes speak to all that is acceptable in our organization, and I am satisfied to assign her the respect of Employee of the Year.
