Description: Items are placed in an easily hackable vault. You even have [your computer] automatically running brute-forcing programs, so there's very rarely a time where you have to wait for your items.	Description: Use rifles to fight

An orange one. Hey, you said you were obsessed, you weren't lying. You even carry it around sometimes, instead of in your modus.</li> <li>• Your weapon of choice. This thing fires modified anti-aircraft rounds, so large it takes you 15 or so seconds to pull the lever back to reload. You also attached pieces of sharpened sheet metal to the bottom of the stock, so after shooting you can bludgeon people with the bottom of the rifle. You painted the sharp part to look like teeth, and the rest of it to look like two dragons, one coiled down to the stock and one snaking</li> </ul>

In this hoard you have goblets, rings, necklaces, gold teeth with diamond insets(from that one stupidass seadweller you killed), a couple jeweled daggers(useless, you've checked, they are mostly silver bladed and sharp as a butter knife.). You even have a trident or two, but that's not your thing.</li> <li>• This is what is essentially 5 anti-tank mines wired together. Its not a massive explosion, but it works. You have it wired to decaptchalogue and explode when your vitals go dark. You're not letting those assholes loot your corpse.</li> <li>• A hovercraft modified to look and function like a revenant from Halo. It even has the cool gun on top. Its painted with Larfleeze's symbol and dragon graffiti.</li> <li>• You know most goldbloods make psiproducts from animal products. Milk, Honey, stuff like that. Please. Why not make your psionic consumable as strong as possible? You learned the process from observing a drug den then stealing their stuff. Just as strong, plus does the crazy psionic overload stuff. You have a stash of a bunch just in case.</li> </ul>

<h2>Character</h2>
Personality:
Quirk: Your EsperHandle is avariceIncarnate, and you take however other people speak for yourself. Backstory: Your name is Kasteu .You are on Earth after being exiled because you ripped apart a seadweller to steal his stuff. It was completely worth it, though you had build a spaceship and fly there with your own psionics, and now they're damaged. You're retraining though, and it's going quite well. You're going with telekinesis this time rather than Eyebeams. You are a massive fan of DC comics. Well, one character in general. LARFLEEZE. Man, what a cool guy. He is your idol, he knows how to get exactly what he wants. You've basically become obsessed with him. You have all the comics featuring him, as well as some cool sculptures/action figures as well. You even have a little tattoo of his symbol on your neck.

Your name used to be Kasteu Hartai, but after reading about Tiamat, you knew you had to share the name. You've also kind of become obsessed with dragons, even though your shitty lusus is a headless imp. How is it even alive? You didn't bring him along when you bailed that shitty planet.

Looks: Standard troll physiology, but strong for his caste, and quite hardy. Wears a Tshirt with his symbol as well as Larfleeze's scrawled ontop Symbol
