to my favs mentioned, here's a letter to you.

to my dearest favourites, hello there. how are you? hopefully you've been well. if you're on my favorite list then, congratulations! actually, not really. most of you guys are my favorites, just that I wrote the top ones. I just really want to say I'm so proud of you guys and how much this server has grown. you guys are literally the light towards my darkness. I joined when it was around 15k members and look at how much we have grown. we have 25.7k members now. wow! time really flies when you cherish them. anyway, back to the main point. I'm so very proud of you guys and how you guys are always welcoming to other members and stuff like even when we have disagreements here and there with people getting warned (I myself am guilty of this too), I really love how much you guys just get back together after the situation and make sure nobody is talking about it again so it doesn't make one uncomfortable - and I'm really thankful for that. I'm a very awkward person in real life, but you guys just make it seem fake, a facade, something that needs to be broken through just to get in. I really love you guys to the point that I have to chat with you guys everyday, frequently despite the ups and downs in my private life. But as I'm going through examination periods, I won't be able to chat more often as I'll be busy revising for my theories and work. I hope you guys enjoyed my company while I was available / online. love you guys so much.

to the other people whom I have interacted with but not in my top fav list, this paragraph is for you.

hello there, no, just because you're not in my favorite list means I don't like you. most of the time I'm just too lazy to type out everyone's names into a list. you guys are appreciated by me, and I'll try my best to remember your names to update the list. I don't have people I don't like, unless you really made me dislike you. ~~hmo I'm watching you.~~ jokes anyway, you guys are always loved by me and please don't hesitate to talk to me / dm me if you need anything or someone to talk to!! I'll be there to listen to you :) you guys are still my favorites, just not my TOP ones. I'll still love you guys equally as I love my top favorites. just because you're not my favorite doesn't mean you get less attention and/or love from me, I'll treat you all the same, and I hope you realize that there are people who appreciate your company, like me. I love you guys so much that my heart would not be enough to contain all my love.

signing out with love,
yuerns.
