

Business is a numbers game

Some people like to believe the whole universe is built up on numbers, maybe it is, who am I to say it's not?

But sack the universe, we want business insights. A wise man stated that number 1 is the worst in the game.

Let's say a video game for example.

Level 1, you got shit weapons and your fighting lame enemies

Many original video games like to push the 'Lone wolf' narrative, but inside the real world this just doesn't seem to work out.

Too many people believe they can do it all themselves.

The 'Lone Wolf', when he looks in the mirror, he sees a reflection of a bearded Jew.

Theres no such thing. Even the most famous man on planet Earth never done it solely by himself.

Genghis Khan, just under 240,000 other military-aged men fought amongst him:

Elon Musk, more than 100,000 employees.

Andrew Tate demonstrates to his audience that success and world domination is never obtained with just '1', (man, dollar, bitch, etc.) and this is no different in the business space.

Are you a Lone Wolf?
