

Privacy Policy for YouTube Grid Subscriptions

Last Updated: 2025-02-25

1. Information Collection

This extension collects:

- YouTube authentication tokens through OAuth
- YouTube subscription data (channel names and avatars)
- Browser storage data for caching subscriptions

2. Use of Information

The collected information is used solely to:

- Display your YouTube subscriptions in a grid layout
- Cache subscription data to improve performance
- Authenticate with YouTube services

3. Data Storage

- Authentication tokens are stored securely in Chrome's identity system
- Subscription data is cached temporarily in Chrome's storage
- No data is stored on external servers

4. Data Sharing

We do not:

- Sell or share any user data
- Transfer data to third parties
- Use data for any purpose other than displaying subscriptions
- Store personal information outside of Chrome's secure storage

5. Third-Party Services

This extension uses:

- YouTube Data API v3 (for fetching subscriptions)
- Google OAuth 2.0 (for authentication)

6. User Rights

You can:

- Remove the extension at any time to delete all stored data
- Clear browser data to remove cached information
- Revoke OAuth permissions through your Google Account settings
