

"New Beginnings"

After all the mayhem of Winter Wonderland, many beanlings are now taking some time to relax and unwind, taking a break from partying in order to live life a bit more simply. As the new year rolls around, a lot of beanlings would like to start their new year resolutions, whether they can stick to them or not is to be seen. Now is also the time to start new romances, with the sprouting season fast approaching, a lot of beans are starting to feel a little frisky and perhaps nervous.

For this prompt simply depict your beanling enjoying the new year! Are they starting a new years resolution? Maybe they are simply at home relaxing. Perhaps they are feeling lonely and looking for a new romance? How is your beanling bringing in the new year?
