

Oiler Invitational

Friday is a bigger invitational. This meet is on our regional course. This will be a preview of the course that we will be running at the end of the season with many of the teams that are in our regions. The bus leaves early. Make sure you get there on time and quickly get the bus loaded (do your part to help). Please check the meet schedule below so that you know when and where you are racing at the meet. This meet is going to allow us to test our fitness level against our competition, work on our race strategies, and teamwork on the course. After the races, we may get food on the way home. Please let us know if you have any questions.
