Love Can Get You By

You're running on empty baby; I'm seeing it in your eyes
You're waking up every morning trying to find a life

You're standing in the doorway but you're too afraid to knock
Cause life is too damn hard and the truth is such a shock

Put your fears away
Get ready for a better way

You don't have to be afraid You don't have to be alone
Love can get you by, Love can get you by
You don't have to be afraid You don't have to be alone
Love can get you by, if you let it try

I was an orphan just like you hiding from everyone
Instead of stepping up I'd rather cut and run

But now I have something better and you can have it too
Just put down the weapon and pick up a tool

Put your fears away
Get ready for a better way

You don't have to be afraid, You don't have to be alone
Love can get you by, Love can get you by
You don't have to be afraid You don't have to be alone
Love can get you by, if you let it try