

THE SPIRIT FANG

A pack of ferocious, bi-pidel, sentient wolves who have exceeded their mortality; achieving superbeing (or werewolf) status. These wolves- akin to the superhuman standard, are capable of morphing their biologies to adapt to the world they inhabit; ensuring their constant survival, at least at a base level.

Each wolf, since their induction into the pack, is capable of "Transformation Release", an act of releasing the pent up energy inside the body Allowing the body to enter a stronger, second form where the wolf's physical attributes are enhanced substantially (doubled to be exact.)

Of the few within THE SPIRIT FANG, there exists one, "Teppei: The Crimson Wolf", who excels in hand to hand combat. Known as the combat specialist of the pack, Teppei is a dangerous mercenary who fights for the thrill, having nothing to lose with each battle engaged. To him? Death in battle is a warrior's death; an honorable one. With that ideology, he battles each and every opponent as if it's a deathmatch, wanting nothing more than to kill or be killed

"Do you wish to kill me? If so, are you prepared to die?"

"It is kill or be killed, bitch. No other way to live. No other way to die."

DARK TRANSFORMATION RELEASE

Dark Transformation Release works in a similar way to its ki-based counterpart. However, it triples TEPPEI's physical attributes as opposed to the aforementioned doubling; at a cost. Dark Transformation Release only lasts 3 turns. Once the energy has been exhausted. TEPPEI must wait 2 turns minimum before activating the release again.

TECHNIQUES:

溜まったエネルギー (Pent Up Energy): For every turn TEPPEI doesn't use his Ki or Dark Ki, he gains 1 Pent Up Energy. That energy is then used to perform techniques or, during Transformation Release, act as a blast (or wave) of ki to attack the opponent; releasing all at once.

灼熱波動拳(Scorching Heat Surge Fist) [ Dark Ki ] · Channeling all the thermal energy in the body to a central point, it combines with the dark ki to create a flame-imbued blast. (1 Charge) (1 Pent Up Energy)

波動拳 (Hadoken) - Channeling as much ki as desired into a central point, it is released forward in the form of a ki blast. How strong the blast is depends on the amount of charges & pent up energy put into it. (1 Charge) (1 Pent Up Energy)

As aforementioned, the bodies of THE SPIRIT FANG are some of the most durable and flexible in their universe. Being capable of crashing through walls or falling from large heights and walking away with minimal damage. Additionally, their sight, hearing, and smell is that of a wolf's but enhanced tenfold. Meaning they can track just about anything down; living or dead. Their fur is burn-resistant and tough, with their skin being capable of enduring superhuman impact, biding most damage that comes their way; converting what they can into adrenaline.

Most members of THE SPIRIT FANG are equipped with burn-resistant clothing weaved by carbon fiber. This allows them to fight in most conditions without tearing, burning, or ripping their clothes. On top of that, they are given the option to equip themselves with "Scouter". A HUD worn on the right or left eye that displays thermal energy readings, has night vision, and can even detect supernatural phenomena and its many case uses. Regardless, ALL members of the pack are required to wear limitation devices that limit their power level to the standard of wherever they're visiting. This way, they can remain inconspicuous until it is time for the kill.

THE STORY SO FAR...

Born to a family of three, The Red Claw Brothers have always stuck together. When they were kicked from their home to become men, they stuck together. When the eldest brother joined THE SPIRIT FANG, they stuck together. And they'd continue to stick together in everything they've done and will do.-- That fact remains to this day....but to focus on TEPPEI for a moment.

Since he was a child, TEPPEI knew he was destined to become a warrior. He'd felt it in his blood- the thrill of the fight. Getting into scuffles in his youth, fights in his teens, and battles as an adult. TEPPEI only knew violence because to him? Violence was all that mattered. It was that desire, that hunger for violence, that sent him on an excursion to the planet Earth. Where he learned humanity and its weaknesses, martial arts (and its many forms), and the means to control his ki. When he returned, he instructed the way of ki & dark ki manipulation to his brothers. Strengthening THE SPIRIT FANG as a whole.

THE STORY NOV

While he isn't the Alpha of the pack, he's certainly in a higher position than most. In regards to the pack specifically, he spends his time training others while training himself; still very much considering himself a "student of the game". And though he hasn't settled down with anyone specific, he's still very much shopping for a mate, as passing down his legacy is something of great importance to him.

When he isn't with THE SPIRIT FANG, he's carrying out Bounty orders; Bounty Hunting being a family trade.
