Principal's Report

- Enrichment clusters
 - o Ms. Meizlik reported that enrichment clusters are going well and that they'll be extended until after the midwinter break in order to have time for celebrations at the end of the clusters
 - o Spring clusters will start sometime in March and will be open to kindergarteners and 1st graders

PTA Report

- Mark Krotov reported that the PTA is still collecting Playbill ads for the school play, and that Chuck E. Cheese night will not be happening in January

Old Business

- iReady/State test data
 - o Alex Checrallah mentioned that having gotten iReady data for 3rd grade testing, she still needs data from the state 3rd grade tests in order to be able to compare the data sets
 - o Ms. Meizlik said that she'd work with Ms. Bostic to get that data
- Pre-K/Kindergarten open houses
 - o Ms. Meizlik reported that there'd been one open house before the break and another one on January 6, with a large turnout; a third open house would happen on January 15
- Parent coordinator
 - o Ms. Meizlik reported that the parent coordinator position hadn't been posted yet, as the school was waiting for the DOE's HR coordinator to ensure that Ms. Cardona's exit paperwork was all complete
 - o The interview process could take a month or two depending on whether an applicant is already employed by DOE, and the entire hiring process could take several months
 - o Alex asked who parents should contact in Ms. Cardona's absence, and Ms. Meizlik responded that they could contact her or Ms. Bostic (Ms. Meizlik for prospective pre-K/K parents)

- o The group suggested that Ms. Meizlik's email address could be posted on District 30's Facebook page, or that a new contact email address for prospective parents could be created and posted there
- Retention for dual language program
 - o Alex reiterated that it would be great to have a new parent meeting in June for dual-language parents, so that if parents changed their minds at that meeting, new spots could be filled from the wait list; Ms. Parache said that she would set that meeting up

New Business

- Sound system
 - o Ann Prokofieva mentioned that the sound system in the auditorium has been faulty and wondered if it'd be fixed ahead of the play
 - o Ms. Meizlik responded that the sound was being tested ahead of the play
- Graduation materials
 - o Ms. Colleran mentioned that, as has come up before, it doesn't make sense to ask parents to pay $60 for caps and gowns they use once, and that the school is looking into a more affordable package that could include a sash, a shirt for the senior trip, a backpack, and a keychain
- Mid-year CEP review
 - o Alex asked what SLT should be looking for when conducting the CEP review; Ms. Parache said that there's no mid-year data from iReady yet, and that the CEP review should happen in March
- Construction
 - o Ms. Parache said that cafeteria construction can happen during summer break
 - o Ms. Parache said that she would talk to Joe about the scaffolding and reported after the meeting, by email, that the scaffolding may still take another three to six months, and that sidewalk bridging could last between six and nine months

The meeting was adjourned at 7:47 AM
