

Article of Title

First Outhor^{1*}, Second Outhor²

First Affiliated Institution¹, Second Affiliated Institution²

Email: young@gmail.com

Abstract

Abstract is written in foreign language in a short paragraph describing paper's content. Abstract consists of background, research problem(s), purpose of the study, method(s) and theoretical framework(s), and result of the study, and conclusion. Abstract is written approximately 100—200 words, by presenting factual information.

Keywords: Maximum; five words; or phrases and Appropriate to the Title

Abstrak: Abstrak dari keseluruhan tulisan, memuat masalah pokok yang dibahas, alasan penelitian, tujuan, teori, metode, dan hasil penelitian, dan simpulan. Abstrak ditulis dalam satu paragraf terdiri atas 100—200 kata, dengan menyajikan keterangan yang faktual.

Kata Kunci: Maksimal; lima kata; atau frasa dan Sesuai dengan Judul

INTRODUCTION

Describe the academic debate of the research, outline the problem to be addressed, and e. Explain how you tested the research problem and explain the purpose of your research. The total word count of the paper is 4000 words, which ask questions to clarify the position of your paper with previous literaturincludes the method, results and discussion and concludes with a conclusion. The introduction should show the NOVELTY of the paper and contain a clear GAP.

METHOD

Contain the type of method used, primary and secondary data sources, with appropriate data collection techniques from the study you will review. Furthermore, present data analysis with relevant approaches and theories. The method you use will be assessed on how it works in the paper.

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

Present your findings naturally from the results of the data collection that has been carried out, then discuss it with relevant theories. Findings must be supported with scientific reference sources to provide confirmation of the arguments and analysis that has been presented. Please note that the findings presented should come more from primary sources, not secondary sources. The entire article is written in English and must comply with the template before submitting the article online through the Open Journal System (OJS). Each sub-title of the discussion is capitalized at the beginning of the word in (Bold).

Table

Place images and tables in relevant sections of the article, with a number and caption below each. Make sure the size and resolution of the images are clear enough to support the information.

Table 1: Table of Title

No	Good	Not Good	Information
1		Primer
2	Sekunder		100 %

Figure

Place images and tables in relevant sections of the article, with a number and caption below each. Make sure the size and resolution of the images are clear enough to support the information.

Figure 1: Figure of Title

CONCLUSIONS

Summarize the content of the article clearly. The conclusion is a solid summary of the description of the paragraphs that have been presented previously without building new ideas outside the content paragraphs. The conclusion provides information on the answer to the problem, debate and discussion of the results and discussion of the content of the article.

REFERENCES

Reference writing is recommended using applications such as Mendeley, Reference Manager or Zotero. Writing references using the APA 7 Th edition system style model. The references you cite come from 70% of reputable scientific journal articles with proven identity, in addition to referring to master books, books, news, websites, tuots and others.