Subject line: My life was falling apart...

I've had numerous 9-to-5 jobs back in the day.

I've worked as a salesman at a car dealership, as a marketer at a small company, even as an accountant in the beginning of my career.

However, I always felt like something was missing,

The routine of going to work, coming home, sitting down to watch TV, then going to sleep "life" wasn't fulfilling for me.

There was a burning desire inside me, always craving more out of life.

My last job was a sales position in a startup company,

But I was barely making any money to make ends meet.

I was feeling anxious, depressed, and lost.

Then, when it seemed like it couldn't get worse,

I got fired.

I didn't have any savings, and was living paycheck to paycheck each month.

I had to sleep on a friend's couch and eventually ended up living in my car just to survive.

I knew that something HAD TO CHANGE.

That's when I discovered copywriting.

Fast forward 30 years, and my life is better than I could have ever imagined it to be.

Basically, I'm the successful veteran who learned every tactic in the book while figuring it all out in the real world, in real time, with real clients,

Testing everything constantly, tossing the crap and doubling-down on the stuff that worked...

I was able to create the life I always desired for myself.

Subject Line: Path to copywriting success.

There is a reason why I'm one of the most successful and respected freelance copywriters who ever launched a career.

My success didn't solely come from raw IQ, an exhaustive reading list, or mere luck.

I started from scratch , with zero help from anyone.

After years of discipline, consistently engaging in daily practice and continuous learning,

Making all the mistakes possible, I learned my lessons, and figured out the RIGHT way to tackle every step of the process.
