

Bleep Test UK Police - Privacy Policy

The app, Pro or Free, does not transmit any information to any entity. That is, nobody (including the author) knows when you run the app, how often you run it, your score or what options you selected.

A menu item in the app allows you to contact the developer using any of the communication apps on your device. The message is pre-populated with the app's settings – this assists the developer in resolving issues – but you have full edit control and may choose to discard such information.

The Free version does not store any personal data on your phone.

The Pro version stores results, that you explicitly save, on your phone. You may delete such data whenever you like, using features built into the app.

Just run!
