Fatum

!! Best to view on a PC/Desktop site !!

Fatum is one of the Side characters in Rhen's OC story, "My Own Fate" that appears in the final arc of the story. Fatum is known as the second Divine Principles and was mistakenly referred to as "Ms.Universe" by other Divine Principles (below The Fourth) due Omen's absence from being the Divine Principles leader.

Fatum didn't have any goal in her life the moment she became a Divine Principles and was only there to accompany and fulfill Omen's duties until she met Despoina who wishes to bring back a certain someone that was rather interesting.

Background

Fatum was once an intelligent student from birth. She never really has friends because of her always prioritizing studying for competitions. Fourteen years of endless studying and winning competitions made her realize that her being smart doesn't reward herself. She eventually gave up joining competitions by talking about it to her parents after high school ended. Soon, the university she got in welcomed her with open arms. She received a bunch of friends that saw her who she truly is and not by her intelligence and for the first time, she was satisfied with her life. During her eighteenth birthday when she was returning home after hanging out with her friends, a gun fired straight towards her neck, ending her life in an instant.

Fatum never lived its full life. She didn't like how she was satisfied with her life for only six months before it was taken away from her. Maybe that's why she found herself being reborn as a conscious being, away from its home.

Early Life

"She's a good kid" is the word her parents would say every time they got a visitor, but yet she never felt like one. She never thought she was good because of her intelligence. Being smart made her turn down most of her friends' hangout for studying, eventually, one by one they all left her. She won in many competitions but she has never truly won in life.

Smart, good, beautiful, those words meant nothing if in the end she's all alone. People saw her as nothing but an academic weapon to win. Need a school representation? She's first in the line. Confused at a certain question? The teacher will send her to you. Every problem that requires basic to advanced human intelligence will be solved by her.

Eventually, she broke down. Being stuck on a single question was never a problem for her and that's what makes her angry. She was envious of others' level of intelligence, she knew that if she wasn't smart, she would've been far more satisfied with her own achievements.

As a last resort, she told her parents that she didn't want to participate in any competitions anymore. Her parents understood and she has never felt more relieved.

University has been okay for her. She is smart so everything was easy for her and surprisingly, she has good friends. With the sun setting as a reminder it's getting dark, all her mind could think of is how she couldn't wait to get home to eat her birthday cake. By the time she returned home, her parents cried.

It was her eighteenth birthday when everything got taken away from her, including her own life.

Current

Guided by Omen, Fatum became the second Divine Principles. She established a new era of existence and a whole branch of the vast universe.

After Omen's sudden disappearance, Fatum had to carry all his burden by fulfilling his duties. Billion years changed her entirely, she slowly became bored of her own existence and
