

Kylian Mbappe is demanding wages not paid by Paris Saint-Germain (PSG)

Britain's "90min" reported on the 20th (Korea Standard Time) that "Mbappe took legal action to receive 55 million euros (about 81.2 billion won) that he did not receive against his former team, PSG."

Mbappe and Real Madrid have been strongly linked over the past few years. However, the contract did not actually continue. However, the mood has changed since the last transfer window. Mbappe refused to renew his contract with PSG. PSG's contract with Mbappe was scheduled to end this summer. If Mbappe failed to renew his contract with Mbappe, he had to let him go as a free agent.

PSG did not stay put. When he failed to persuade Mbappe, he tried everything he could, except for the pre-season and demoted the second tier team. However, he could not afford to change his mind. Rather, he enjoyed his vacation leisurely. Eventually, PSG raised its hand.

In the end, Real Madrid signed its dream Mbappe. Real Madrid announced on its official website that "Real Madrid and Mbappe have agreed to become Real Madrid players for five seasons."

Mbappe said, "I feel relieved. I arrived at Real Madrid, the world's largest club, with very humility. I am grateful to Real Madrid President Florentino Perez. He trusted me from the first day. I am so happy. As you can see the smile on my face, I am so happy."

He also delivered a shocking story. "(After announcing his desire to leave at the end of the season), I understood that I would no longer play for PSG. I was convinced because I heard something very violent. Coach Luiz Enrique and General Manager Luiz Campos were saved. Without them, I would never have set foot in the stadium again," Mbappe said.

Even after leaving PSG, there is still something to be sorted out. According to the media, Mbappe claims that he did not receive some of the two bonuses specified in the contract and wages for the last three months at PSG. It is a large sum of 55 million euros.

PSG claims that the terms of the contract changed when Mbappe said he would leave the team as an FA. Mbappe instructed his representative to contact the legal departments of the LFP and UEFA. 안전놀이터

Meanwhile, PSG was also embroiled in a controversy over delayed wages in June. According to France's "Foot-sur7," the PSG team decided to receive a bonus of 300,000 euros (about 400 million won) per player in the 2022-23 season, but PSG Chairman Nasser Al-Khelaifi blocked it.

It was due to dissatisfaction with his performance. Chairman Al-Khelaifi ignored his promise and did not pay bonuses to players. More than a year has passed already, but there are no special measures taken. PSG is not giving bonuses under the pretext that there is no legal problem. It is known that there is no plan to pay bonuses going forward.

