

SL: Do you find that you have a lot of Youtube followers but not enough buyers?

Hey Todd!

I've been checking out your content and what you're offering your customer base.

You seem to have some solid programs like The System and Verbal Game Academy which offer a ton of value for guys who need help with their dating game, and your YouTube videos have got excellent engagement! You posted 'Online Dating vs. Cold Approach' just over 10 days ago and pulled 25k views!

I think that there is a way to convert a lot more of these viewers into buyers if you start driving traffic toward your website from your social media accounts.

Your youtube content is great, but all the big money is in your programs and coaching.

With a smooth funnel to bring in cold traffic and encourage people that already know who you are to head to your sales pages, your revenue could start to increase dramatically.

How many visitors does your website have in comparison with Todd V Dating on Youtube?

I'm a digital marketing consultant and copywriter, so I'd love to help you with this and see if we can take you to another level.

Let me know if this interests you, and I'll show you some spec work I've put together to preview what I hope to do for you.

Thanks for your time,
Kane K
