Peer-Reviewed | Open Access | International | Multidisciplinary

The International Journal of Advanced Digital Systems and Multidisciplinary Studies (IJADSMS) is a peer-reviewed, open-access international journal committed to publishing high-quality research in advanced digital technologies and multidisciplinary fields.

To support the costs associated with editorial processing, peer-review administration, publication, DOI registration, online hosting, and journal maintenance, an Article Processing Charge (APC) is applicable only to manuscripts that have been formally accepted for publication.

1. Article Processing Charge (APC)

For Indian Authors

₹1,800 + 18% GST per accepted article

The standard APC covers articles of up to six (12) final typeset pages.

- Article hosting and online accessibility
- Inclusion in the relevant Volume and Issue of the journal

3. Extra Page Charges (EPC)

Extra Page Charges

Indian Authors: ₹200 per additional page (B&W)

International Authors: US $5 per additional page (B&W)

The actual number of final pages will be determined only after the accepted manuscript has been formatted and typeset by the IJADSMS production team. The corresponding author will be informed of any applicable Extra Page Charges before the article is included in the specific Volume and Issue.

4. Additional Editing, Grammar Correction and Figure Redrawing Services

The standard APC does not include extensive language editing, major grammar correction, professional figure redrawing, or substantial manuscript reformatting.

3. Payment of the APC does not guarantee acceptance or publication of a manuscript.
4. All submitted manuscripts are subject to the journal's editorial screening and peer-review process.
5. Editorial and peer-review decisions are made independently of any payment or optional service purchased by the author.

6. Optional grammar correction, language editing, figure redrawing, or formatting services have no influence on the editorial decision or acceptance of the manuscript.
7. The six-page limit is calculated on the basis of the final journal-formatted and typeset version, not the author's originally submitted manuscript.
8. Where the final typeset article exceeds six pages, the author will be informed of the applicable Extra Page Charges before final publication.
9. Applicable taxes, including 18% GST for Indian authors, will be charged in accordance with prevailing regulations.
10. Authors are advised to complete payment only through the official payment methods communicated by IJADSMS.

7. Open Access Policy

IJADSMS follows an open-access publishing model, making published articles freely accessible online to readers, researchers, academicians, and the wider scholarly community.

The APC supports the costs involved in maintaining this open-access publication model and helps ensure that readers can access published research without subscription charges.
