

Literature Circle Notes: Question Asker

Write some "Fat" questions for your group to talk about. Write questions about characters, the setting, a problem in the story. Ask the author something or question how the story relates to the real world. Need Help? Use these question hints

What is your reaction to _____?	What was the problem with _____?
Do you think _____ did the right thing when he/she _____? Why?	Do you believe _____?
What do you think _____ was thinking when he/she _____?	What do you think about _____?
What would happen if _____?	How could _____ have acted differently?
What do we already know about _____?	What would _____ have done if he or she was in a different setting?
How does _____ affect _____?	How are these characters similar? How are they different?
Why is _____ important?	What would a good (alternative) title for this chapter be?
What does the writer want us to think about _____?	Could _____ really have happened?
Do you think _____ happens in real life?	What does the book title mean?

Today's Reading p. _____ to p. _____

Your Questions	What made you ask that question? What situation in the story brought this up? What page number?
1
2
3
4
5
Remember: Give people time and to answer and remember to ask follow up questions!!!
Tomorrow's Assignment p. _____ to p. _____	