

On the eve of Earth Day, join us for an exceptional webinar sponsored by the YANA Bay Area and New England chapters and Yale BlueGreen

U.S. Climate Change: Regional Differences & How to Prepare for What's Ahead

National Webinar

April 21, 2022

We're already living through the beginnings of climate chaos. In Arizona, laborers now start their day at 3 a.m. because it's too hot to work past noon. Chinese investors are snapping up real estate in Canada. Millennials have evacuation plans. Moguls are building bunkers. Retirees in Miami are moving inland.

Join us for insights from the Yale Program Climate Change Communication into regional differences in public knowledge, attitudes, policy preferences, and behavior, and the underlying psychological, cultural, and political factors that influence them.

Discover how the Business Council on Climate Change fosters innovative approaches to collaboration and best practices with members such as Google, Salesforce, and Autodesk. What are current trends in climate change goal setting, supply chain sustainability, and the influence employees, customers and investors have on disclosures?

And learn what you can do to prepare for the change that is accelerating.

After the webinar, you may join regional breakout groups for discussion.

+++

SPEAKERS & BIOS

Anthony Leiserowitz, Ph.D. is Director of the Yale Program on Climate Change Communication and a Senior Research Scientist at the Yale School of the Environment. He is an expert on public opinion and public engagement with the issues of climate change and the environment. He is also host of the daily radio broadcast, Climate Connections.

Anthony Leiserowitz

Maura McKnight is the Executive Director of the Business Council on Climate Change \(BC3\) - a San Francisco based multi-sector partnership dedicated to incubating, scaling, and sharing world-leading solutions to address climate change. An action-oriented leader, she has spent 18 years working at the intersection of climate, energy, technology, conservation, business development and social impact.

Who We Are - Business Council on Climate Change

David Pogue '85 is a six time Emmy winner for his stories on CBS Sunday Morning, a five-time TED speaker, host of 20 NOVA science specials on PBS, and creator/host of the podcast Unsung Science. He has also written or co-written more than 120 books including How to Prepare for Climate Change: A Practical Guide to Surviving the Chaos.

David Pogue.com » About

Senator Sheldon Whitehouse '78 has earned a reputation in the Senate as a fierce advocate for progressive values and a thoughtful legislator capable of reaching across the aisle to achieve bipartisan solutions. Representing the Ocean State, Whitehouse plays a key role in crafting policies addressing climate change, environmental protection, and America's clean energy economy. Senator Whitehouse will be sending his comments in advance.

About Sheldon

About YANA

YANA connects, engages, and consults with Yalies who are making a difference in the nonprofit world - individuals founding, funding, working in, or volunteering for nonprofits in our community of [how many people?] eight million people.

Bay Area: Contact bayarea@yalenonprofitalliance.org for more info
New England: Contact newengland@yalenonprofitalliance.org for more info

About Yale Blue Green

Yale Blue Green (YBG) is the shared interest group for Yale University alumni who are engaged in environmental and sustainability topics and issues. We connect Yale alumni, students, faculty, staff and affiliates. Our mission is to support the University in its sustainability efforts and to serve as a hub for thought leadership, collaborative action, lifelong learning and inspiration on initiatives relating to the environment and sustainability.

More Info