why is it better?

The reviewed caption is better than the original because:

It focuses on the benefits of the product instead of just the sale. The original caption is solely focused on the sale and discounts, whereas the reviewed caption highlights the benefits of the training swimwear and race suits.

It speaks directly to the audience's desires and needs. The reviewed caption addresses the audience directly by acknowledging their desire to swim like a pro and providing a solution to achieve that goal.

It uses a more engaging and inspiring tone. The reviewed caption uses words like "success" and "perform at your best" to inspire the audience and create a sense of empowerment. The original caption, on the other hand, is more straightforward and lacks emotional appeal.

It uses a creative metaphor to make a point. The reviewed caption uses the metaphor of "details" to emphasize the importance of having the right gear for success in the water. This makes the caption more memorable and impactful.

Overall, the reviewed caption is more effective in capturing the audience's attention, addressing their needs, and inspiring them to take action.
