The Tortoise and the Hare

Once upon a time, there was a fast and proud hare. The hare loved to brag about how fast he was and always made fun of other animals. One day, he saw a slow-moving tortoise and laughed at him. "You are so slow! I bet I can beat you in a race!" said the hare. The tortoise, who was tired of the hare's teasing, accepted the challenge.

The race began, and the hare quickly ran far ahead of the tortoise. Feeling sure he would win, the hare decided to take a nap under a tree. Meanwhile, the tortoise kept moving steadily, never stopping. He didn't rush, but he didn't stop either. Slowly but surely, he made his way toward the finish line.

When the hare woke up, he saw the tortoise almost at the finish line. He ran as fast as he could, but it was too late. The tortoise crossed the finish line first and won the race. The hare learned a valuable lesson: "Slow and steady wins the race."

- the hare took a nap and the tortoise kept moving steadily
  - the hare was too slow compared to the tortoise
  - the tortoise gave up halfway through the race
  - the hare didn't want to finish the race

13. Why did the tortoise win the race against the hare?
- Because the hare was overconfident and took a nap.
  - Because the tortoise ran faster than the hare.
  - Because the tortoise trained at school.
  - Because the hare got lost on the way.
14. He didn't rush, but he didn't stop either.
What does the underlined word refer to?
- The tortoise and the hare.
  - The boastful hare.
  - The sleepy hare.
  - The tortoise.

The Ugly Duckling

Once upon a time, a mother duck's eggs hatched, and out came several cute ducklings. However, one of the ducklings looked very different. He was larger, gray, and much less attractive than the others. The other ducklings made fun of him and refused to play with him. Feeling sad and lonely, the ugly duckling decided to leave the farm.

The ugly duckling wandered far away, meeting many animals along the way. However, none of them wanted to be his friend. As winter arrived, he found himself cold and isolated, wishing for someone to accept him. One day, he saw beautiful white birds swimming gracefully in the lake. He longed to be like them, but he still didn't know how.

When spring came, the ugly duckling went to the lake to look at his reflection. He was amazed to see that he had changed. He was no longer an ugly duckling, but a beautiful swan! His feathers had turned white and smooth, and he looked just like the graceful birds he had admired before.

The swans welcomed him with open wings, and for the first time, he felt truly happy and at home. He realized that his journey had taught him patience and that everyone has their own time to shine. He finally found where he belonged and lived happily ever after.
