Hidden Expedition: Dawn of Prosperity

When mysterious code signal from abandoned weather station in the Montana Mountains was deciphered by you and Sam you found out that this is more at the observatory nearby that it seemed by the eye. It was reopened 10 years ago in the year 2005 and started to produce strong magnetic field interfering with instruments of meteorologist which caused them to abandon this station. Now code signal was sending a picture of the observatory worker – young girl whose life is in danger now. Moreover, someone attacked Sam and sedated him, alarm worked in the observatory, causing Code Red activation. What's it all about, maybe this facility isn't observatory at all? Maybe whole humanity is in danger because of it?
