

A group of old dogs are gathered at the table in the blue dusty basement gambling for each other's money. The two smallest dogs are cheating their way throughout the whole game and are being as sly as a fox trying not to be caught. Meanwhile during the game they are smoking cigars and pipes as well as drinking brown bottles of beer. Though the game is going smoothly, the fearsome leader seems to be as scared as a deer in front of a headlight, to lose all his money. This group of criminals are gambling illegally making sure nobody finds out about their secret hideout beneath the house. They may not look very pretty and nice but be sure to know that they are big and fierce to those who try to cheat during the game.
