

My grandmother lived in a village when she was a girl. She used to walk to school. My grandmother helped her mother in the house after school. She washed the clothes and cleaned the dishes in the kitchen. She didn't have radiators or hot water in the bathroom. I have a hot shower every night before I go to bed. In her free time she liked to read books or play with her doll's house. In my free time I like reading too but also like playing games on the computer.
