

RSUA Maternity, Paternity and Adoptive Parents Policy

The Royal Society of Ulster Architects (RSUA) Maternity, Paternity and Adoptive Parents Policy has been prepared to ensure that all expectant and new parents are given support before, during and after any period of maternity, paternity or adoption leave.

Enhancements to statutory provisions are highlighted in red throughout the Policy document. The suggested provisions for Contractual Maternity, Paternity and Adoption Pay and any qualifying timescales (highlighted in green throughout the document) are indicative of good practice but may be adjusted to suit the ability of a Practice to meet such provisions. Practices are encouraged to make provisions which are proportionate and achievable.

DISCLAIMER: The policy is to be used as a guide. RSUA does not accept liability for any errors or omissions

1. What is the intention of this Policy?

This policy has primarily been created as an aid for architects' practices who may not have a policy in place or for those who would like to update/enhance their current provision. This policy will be adopted by RSUA for RSUA staff.

2. What enhancements to statutory provisions are recommended by the policy?

The enhancements to statutory provisions are based on primary research and are therefore considered to be indicative of good practice. Additional eligibility requirements and claw back mechanisms are included to avoid onerous employer obligations.
