

List of Charities

Beyond Riba has compiled a list of reputable charities. These range from well established international charities to small local ones that have different areas of specialization. The aim is to go for quality over quantity. As Beyond Riba progressors, we are likely to deal with many more charities and will add to the list inshAllah. Although we are comfortable to donate to these charities and have personally engaged with them before adding them to our list, the onus is on the donor to do their own due diligence before donating as Beyond Riba will not be held liable for any misdemeanors.
