Welcome!

This program is designed to help you go from 160 to 170 on the LSAT. I've created a comprehensive curriculum that covers both Logical Reasoning and Reading Comprehension in-depth. Below, I've written out my answers to your frequently asked questions:

Q: Who is this program perfect for?

A: Dedicated students who are testing in the fall of 2026, who have already studied for a few months and want to score above 170. This is a rigorous program that requires class attendance and deliberate homework completion to succeed. Students should have a starting score above 160.

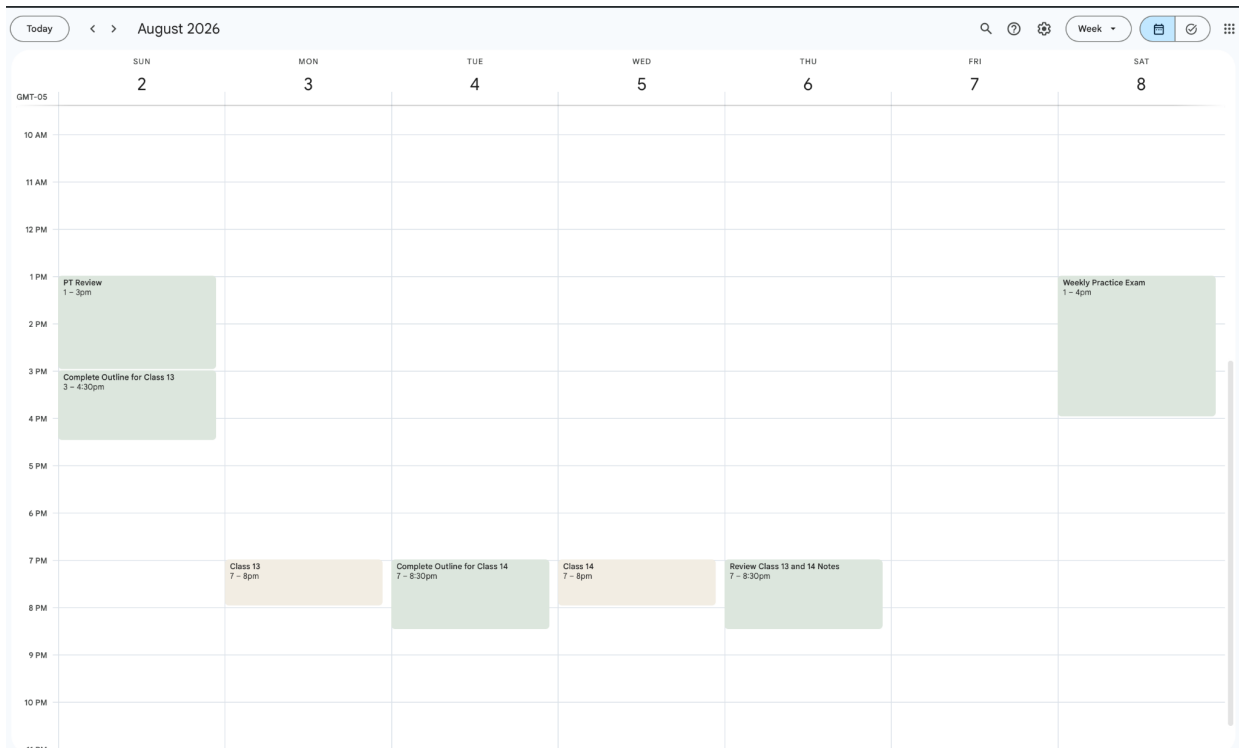

Q: How are classes structured?

A: I post an outline a week before each class. You should complete the outline, make your best attempt at each question presented, and jot down your thoughts. Then, come to class prepared to learn the best way to solve each question on the outline.

Q: What's the weekly workload?

A: ~15 hours, and that includes class time. Set aside 2-3 hours each week to complete your outlines, 3 hours for class time, 3 hours to take your PTs, and 4-6 hours for your homework. I'll outline everything you need to work on each week.

A typical week would look like this (central time):

Q: Do we receive any materials other than class work?

A: Yes! You will receive completed explanations for 10 practice exams. These will be posted during and toward the end of the program, into the fall months, for you to use asynchronously as you prepare for the September, October, and November LSATs.

Q: Will I have access to class recordings?

A: Yes! While attendance is mandatory for success, I do understand that emergencies can happen. For your review purposes or in case you have to miss a class, recordings for the week are posted every Saturday. You will have access to these through the November 2026 LSAT.

Q: What other support do you offer?

A: I hold office hours every other Sunday at 1pm CST/2pm EST. We'll use this time to review any class materials you'd like help on. We'll also discuss testing strategy and tweak your individual study plans.

I'll also be available via our dashboard to answer your study questions. I'll usually log on weeknight evenings around 5-6pm. This is where you all post your study questions, and I'll batch detailed replies in the evenings.

Q: What is your refund and satisfaction policy?

A: If you're not happy with your purchase, let me know before class 2 and I'll process a full refund for you. If you complete the program, attend every class, and complete all your assigned homework, and you still don't see a score change from your first to last PT – send me an email after the program and I'll refund your fee.

About Lizna

Hi! I'm Lizna. I scored 175 on the LSAT and I've been coaching high-scorers for 6 years. My students routinely hit high 170s on their official takes – even up to a perfect 180. I created this program because it's the resource I would have killed for during my own LSAT journey. Now, you can learn in three months what took me years to perfect.
